American Football – The Basics

Object of the Game

- The object of the game is to outscore your opponent by advancing the football into their endzone for as many touchdowns as possible while holding them to as few as possible. There are other ways of scoring, but a touchdown is the prime objective.

The Basics of a Football Team

- Each team is allowed 11 men on the field at a time.
- Unlimited substitution is permitted, but players may only enter the field when the ball is not in play.
- If team A has possession of the ball, they use their offensive team to attempt to advance the ball toward the opponents endzone.
- If team B has the ball, team A will use their defensive team to attempt to stop team B from advancing the ball.
- If a kicking play is expected, both teams will use their special teams.

Methods of Scoring

- The biggest goal for an offense, is to score a touchdown. To score a touchdown, a player must carry the ball across the opposition's goal line, or catch a pass in the end zone. A touchdown is worth six points.
- The team scoring a touchdown is given the bonus of trying to add one or two more points. These are called extra point conversion attempts. One point is awarded for a kicked conversion, and two points for a run or passed conversion.

- Another way for a team to score is by kicking a field goal. This is when they kick the football between the upright bars of the goal post in the opponent's endzone. A field goal is worth three points.
- A team can also pick up two points by tackling an opponent possessing the ball in their own end zone. This is called a safety!

Understanding Down and Distance

- Understanding down and distance is probably the biggest key to understanding football.
- Basically, a down is a play. From the time the ball is snapped (put into play), to the time the play is whistled over by the officials, is considered one down.
- A team's offense is given four downs (plays) to move ten yards toward the opponent's end zone.
- Distance is the number of yards a team needs to get a new set of four downs.
- If they make the ten yards needed within four downs, they are given a new set of downs. This is called getting a first down.
- If they don't make it the required ten yards, the other team's offense takes possession of the ball.
- The offence can also decide to kick the ball away on fourth down to avoid giving the ball to their opponents in good position, this is called a 'punt'. The opponents then take over where the punt is fielded.

After a Score

- After a team scores via a touchdown or field goal, they must, in turn, kick off to the other team, and the process begins all over again.

Play-off picture

The BAFL Division 1 play-offs are only a four weeks away, and as yet nothing is decided! In the North the Yorkshire Rams look certain to qualify with a 7-2-1 record, but the Dundee Hurricanes (4-1-2) and Redditch Arrows (5-2-1) could also both win the division and the West Coast Trojans (3-3-1) are still in contention.

In the South it is anyone's guess, with the Thunder, Sundevils, Saints and your Exiles only separated by ½ a game, and anyone could still win the division. Both divisions are very tight and will come down to these remaining fixtures;

Today - Sussex Thunder @ Kent Exiles, Dundee Hurricanes @ South Yorkshire Mustangs, Southern Sundevils @ Oxford Saints

24th August - Dundee Hurricanes @ West Coast Trojans, South Yorkshire Mustangs @ Redditch Arrows, Southern Sundevils @ Sussex Thunder, Kent Exiles @ Norwich Devils, Ipswich Cardinals @ Oxford Saints

31st August - West Coast Trojans @ Redditch Arrows, Norwich Devils @ Ipswich Cardinals

Welcome to the game.

Welcome to the Kent Exiles final home game of the 2008 season (barring play-offs!), and ninth overall. A special welcome to you if you've come along for the first time, we hope you enjoy the Exiles game day experience and come back again soon.

Today sees the Sussex Thunder visit the Exiles in a winner takes all clash. They are currently leading the division on the tie-break rules over the Sundevils and us. We have been regular rivals over the past few years, and the games are always exciting, none more so than our dramatic final minute victory earlier in the season.

The Thunder run a spread formation most of the time with four wide receivers, so watch out for some offensive fireworks from them. Their players to watch are Eber Kington at Quarterback and Phil Allman his favourite target. But it is the Thunder defence who have been grabbing the headlines this season, look out for their hard hitting Simon Pinchin and Chris Percival, and great defensive line.

Today should see another good match, as both teams know it is a must win game. Whoever wins is guaranteed to make the play-offs, and the loser will be staying at home, we'll also all be waiting for the score from today's other big game in the division, as the Sundevils visit the Saints. All 4 teams are locked in a tight battle in the BAFL's most exciting division.

So who will win the division and avoid the long trip to Scotland or Yorkshire? Who can make the play that sets his team on the Road to Britbowl XXII? You're about to find out.....So settle down for an afternoon of great football, and get behind the teams as they look to end their seasons on a high note. Let's see if the Exiles can live up to their promise and jump start their drive for the finals.....

Make sure you also check out our merchandise stand today, we'll be letting you buy our new ranges, including key-rings, car stickers, t-shirts, fleeces, caps, mugs and more. We also have a 'bargain bucket' of DVD's from the 2006 and 2007 seasons, all priced at just £1, when they're gone, they're gone!
